SEANAPSTER, DATA DISTRIBUTION & PROCESSING CENTER FAMILY

SMART DATA ANALYSIS FOR NAVAL APPLICATIONS

Extracting the right information from a growing volume of data available onboard is increasingly challenging and time-consuming. Always attentive to its customers and partners, Safran has worked hard to offer new robust and capable Data Distribution & Processing Center, able to take up this new challenge. Because many ships require bespoke information distribution solutions, Seanapster is able to suit a large panel of military ships from patrol boats to frigates and submarines, and collects, processes & prioritizes real time data from various sensors. Seanapster then distributes the consolidated information to the relevant systems across your ship.
