Taiwan: birthplace of Austronesian

The AN family has been considered as descending from an ancestor spoken in Taiwan 5500-6000 years ago because Formosan languages show the greatest linguistic diversity among Austronesian languages.

台灣南島語言的多樣性

李壬癸

中央研究院

國際南島語言學界一般都認為台灣南島語言的差異性最大，遠非其他地區（包括菲律賓、馬來西亞、印尼）的南島語言所能比。一個地區的語言歧異性愈大，顯示其時代的縱深愈長，就愈有可能是該語族的起源地和擴散中心。因此，各種台灣南島語言，包括已消失的幾種平埔族語言，都值得做深入的研究。本文首次全面檢驗各種台灣南島語言各層次的多樣性，包括詞序、焦點系統、助動詞、數詞、人稱代詞、複合詞、詞綴、音韻等，並且盡量涵蓋較少人知道的語言，如巴宰、巴賽、法佛朗、西拉雅。

Do you notice anything not yet mentioned from this set of data?

ppshtoq 'will cause something to fall off'

³They either surface as a schwa or an apical vowel homorganic to the preceding sibilant (Huang 2006:11).

Weak vowels³

ppshtoq 'will cause something to fall off'

- ▶ A schwa is epenthesized to separate consonant clusters:

blaq [bə.laq]

ghap [gə.hap]

- ▶ Pre-penultimate vowels are consistently reduced to a schwa.

huziq 'wet' + -an 'LV' = hziqan [hə.zi.qan]

biq 'give' + -i 'PV/LV.DEP' = biqi [bi.qi]

³They either surface as a schwa or an apical vowel homorganic to the preceding sibilant (Huang 2006:11).

Exercise

kki'an 'the place where someone lives'

ggalan 'will be taken for something'

pinsbkan 'the place where a stone splits/Atayal's birthplace'

tciku' 'shrink'

mposgagay 'separate from each other'
