| 11/6531 | 02/12/2011 | Irish Distillers Limited | The extension and expansion of Midleton Distillery. Midleton Distillery straddles the boundary of Cork County Council and Midleton Town Council and a planning application has been lodged to both Planning Authorities for the overall development. The development proposed within the Cork County Council area includes; a) expansion of existing fermenters which includes the erection of 24 no. tanks of similar scale and size to existing, existing and proposed fermenters will be linked by a high level pipebridge and walkway; b) provision of distillation column building to accommodate 6 new distillation columns and associated Tankfarm, the tankfarm will consist of 10 no. tanks; c) demolition of an existing warehouse to provide for new fire water retention pond; d) expansion of existing waste water treatment plant which will require the demolition of some existing tanks to facilitate the erection of new tanks, plant and a waste water control building; e) erection of production services shed and services yard; f) extension to existing substation building; g) proposed new sprinkler tank and associated pump house; h) 8 no. ground water wells which will provide water for the proposed expansion; i) piperacks will be installed to link existing and proposed buildings and tankfarms; including a piperack to link the existing still house and the proposed distillation column building located within the County Council area with the proposed new still house and associated tankfarm within the Town Council area. The demolition of some existing structures will be required to facilitate the proposed development. The proposed development will result in an increase in the volume of spent cooling water discharged to the Dungourney River and the remainder of the process water to be discharged will be treated in the proposed expanded waste water treatment plant prior to discharge to the existing industrial sewer. Access to the proposed development will be via the existing entrance on the Dungourney Road and construction vehicles will access via a temporary construction entrance from the Dungourney Road. The proposed development includes all ancillary site development works consisting of the diversion of existing services, berming, landscaping and the provision of a temporary construction carpark. | Park North , Midleton, Co.
