A NOTE OF GRATITUDE FROM EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP

PATRICK HENTHORNE
2021 Board President

What a transformational year 2021 was. The early weeks of January began with hopes of normalcy in the weeks ahead, and perhaps yours did as well.

COVID case surges, masking mandates and the Great Resignation were at the forefront of the news, and our plans were met with the need for more contingency plans. While the circumstances were uncertain at best, you showed us that your need to connect with each other and with nature were top priorities for you. With record-breaking attendance, membership and generous giving, you demonstrated that Franklin Park Conservatory and Botanical Gardens is actively engaged in its mission to elevate quality of life and connect the community through educational, cultural and social experiences.

We operated with a lean staff in 2021, reduced by nearly 40% from pre-pandemic numbers, yet it was that passionate and hard-working team who executed a full calendar of exhibitions and events, including the Paul Busse Garden Railway, Pollinator Palooza, Pumpkins Aglow and family-favorite Conservatory Aglow™.

The Conservatory remained open and well-attended throughout the year; fundraising events like Bash at the Barn, Hat Day and Field to Table sold out quickly and the Scotts Miracle-Gro Foundation Children's Garden was full of families enjoying time outside together. Social connections were re-established as the Women's Board, community gardeners and the Monarch Society once again could meet, volunteer and reap the benefits of time together and shared interests.

We are humbled to report that revenue increases from admissions, membership and rentals stabilized the Conservatory financially, allowing us to make deposits into our cash reserves. More importantly, it allowed us to continue to enhance our Access programs to ensure that the Conservatory is a welcoming, accessible place for all (pg. 9).

Our Board and staff were also able to address key areas of Diversity, Equity & Inclusion (DE&I) through trainings. Our internal processes continue to be evaluated and updated, and the formation of the new staff DE&I committee will lead to more growth and learning in coming years.

Major highlights for the Conservatory in 2021 were the new and returning programs through our Community Outreach and Education team: Teen Corps, Fort Hayes Green Team, Columbus City Schools Summer School, Nature School, camps and field trips. We feel privileged to offer children exposure to nature in tangible and fun ways, cultivating the next generation of gardeners, horticulturists, and nature-lovers. We hope to spark a lifelong love of nature so today's young visitors go on to become environmental champions, making a better world for us all.

Through your gifts of time, talent and treasure, you cultivated hope, connectedness, opportunities to learn and improvements to the quality of life for over 300,000 people in 2021. You're planting seeds of goodwill, which will undoubtedly blossom for many years to come. We hope you continue to find enjoyment, comfort, and a way to make a difference in the world through Franklin Park Conservatory and Botanical Gardens. Thank you for all you do!

Inspired by horticulture, Franklin Park Conservatory and Botanical Gardens elevates quality of life and connects the community through educational, cultural and social experiences.

INTRODUCING CARMEN BOY

It was our pleasure to introduce Carmen Boy as our new Vice President of Philanthropy on April 30, 2021.

Thanks to the generosity and commitment of you, our donors, in recent years the Conservatory has enhanced our community outreach and education programs, implemented many new initiatives to ensure equitable access to our resources, and expanded our gardens. As we look toward an even brighter future, Carmen will continue to play an integral role in connecting our stakeholders like you with our mission, vision and community impact.

COLUMBUS CITY SCHOOLS: CAMP STEM

In 2021, a new partnership with Columbus City Schools brought the fun, informal, hands-on, investigative learning of the Conservatory's popular summer camps into the classroom for Summer Experience. This six-week long summer enrichment program aimed to reawaken the excitement and joy of learning in students after a challenging academic year of remote and hybrid learning.

Conservatory educators developed a robust, standards-based curriculum that led 1,500 students and their teachers on deep dives into weekly themes like "Garden Gastronomy," which explored edible plants and "Pollinators & Habitat Hunters," focused on the homes and habitats of bees, butterflies, birds and other pollinators.

Conservatory educators led weekly design challenges that fostered critical thinking, creativity and collaboration. Students took a field trip to the Conservatory to search plant biomes for prehistoric plants and dinosaur "fossils." The experience was capped with a family celebration at the Conservatory's August Community Day. A generous grant from Battelle supported the Conservatory's curriculum development and delivery of the program.

"I'm not used to being outside. Usually at school I sit inside and do paperwork."

- CCS STUDENT

"It has been amazing to see the smiling faces of the kids."

- CCS TEACHER

"This year the experience is more hands-on and the lessons are more engaging. The kids really get into what we're doing."

- CCS TEACHER

"[My child] enjoyed the field trip a lot, talked about the visit non-stop and was desperate to come back!"

- PARENT OF A CCS STUDENT

The Conservatory loves to explore the intersection of nature and art—and topiaries are one of our favorite ways to do so. We have a growing collection of whimsical topiaries on display throughout the Conservatory gardens and traveling the world, like the bright red Cardinal topiary that marks the entrance to the Willow Tunnel in the Children’s Garden and a flock of flamingos that “took flight” to Fort Worth Botanic Gardens in Texas in 2021.

In the past, building our topiary collection required the purchase of expensive topiary frames. In recent years, our Horticulture and Exhibitions team had an ambitious idea to craft 100% of our own topiary frames. Bringing this work in house is not only cost-effective, it also allows the Conservatory to design and customize each piece. Our talented Greenhouse Manager, Brian Kocher, began researching and learning both the welding trade and animal anatomy. The result was the creation and exhibition of six beautiful new tropical fish topiaries in 2021!

The whimsical, playful fish were designed to look like Clownfish, Blue-Cheeked Butterflyfish, Anthias Fish, Royal Angelfish and Foxface Rabbitfish. Richly colored and textured plants gave them authentic color and the texture of scales and fins.

Glass eyes were blown by Conservatory gaffers in our Hot Shop and delighted guests of all ages. The fish were displayed in a “seabed” of plants that gave the look and feel of coral, anemone and moving water. Visitors young and old were enchanted by these works of living art.

We are excited for the fish to return in Summer 2022, along with a collection of new animal topiaries, made and managed entirely in-house by our talented Horticulture and Exhibitions Team!

RESILIENCE IN NATURE

In 2021, our Exhibitions team partnered with four local Black arts collectives on one of our most meaningful gallery shows to date. The juried gallery exhibition, displayed in the Cardinal Health Gallery, was entitled Resilience in Nature: We are the Roses that Grew from the Concrete. The show was made possible through collaboration with All People Arts, Creative Women of Color, Maroon Arts Group and TRANSIT ARTS. As TRANSIT ARTS Program Manager Katerina Fuller shared, the program brought together a variety of artists of all ages. 12-year-old Dionna was the youngest artist whose work was selected for display, and she shared with Fuller how the experience changed her. ‘I feel like I see myself as a real artist now.’

Five celebrated jurors reviewed nearly 175 submissions and ultimately selected the final 31 pieces of artwork which were displayed in the gallery from June through November. Award winners were selected by the jurors and a People’s Choice Award was voted on by Conservatory visitors.

The name “Resilience in Nature” was selected by our partners and reflects that diversity is essential to the resilience of the natural world and our own communities. One of the most beautiful examples of this theme came from the collaborators. We held additional events, such as a poetry slam and live mural painting, to help amplify awareness of the exhibit, highlight the artists’ work, and create wonderful experiences that went beyond the gallery walls. They were rich experiences that added to the overall exhibition, made possible through Lead Sponsor Cardinal Health and with support from the Greater Columbus Arts Council and the Ohio Arts Council.

“We appreciate you bringing our arts collaboratives together for this exhibition, we now feel like we have a larger community,” said Fuller. Conservatory leadership is also deeply appreciative of this experience and is committed to continuing to amplify the work and voices of underrepresented artists in our community for years to come.

“GLOWING” PRAISE: AHLUM & ARBOR

Ahlum & Arbor Tree Preservation not only cares for our trees in the park, they're also our long-term Lighting Partner for Conservatory Aglow! The twinkling, glowing, and beloved holiday experience is presented by American Electric Power Foundation and installed by Ahlum & Arbor. Thank you to this special team for keeping our park healthy, beautiful and engaging for families year-round!

GIVING TREESDAY

We had a big – and we mean big! – unexpected need literally growing in our backyard in 2021. What was this tall need? Our tree canopy of more than 2,000 trees!

Our Horticulture team cares for thousands of trees across the nearly 90-acres of Franklin Park. We backlogged tree care work during the pandemic, but in 2021 we prioritized locating funding for this work crucial for our park's health. We went 'out on a limb' and asked our community to support the health of our park by making Giving Tuesday 2021 "Giving Treesday".

Our friends at Ahlum & Arbor Tree Preservation – who have partnered with the Conservatory's Horticulture team for years to care for our trees – generously offered to match all gifts up to $12,000 to help care for our park's beautiful canopy.

We couldn't "be-leaf" how generous our community was. Individuals and families stepped up to help us grow to new heights. More than 90 donors helped us meet our $12,000 Giving Treesday goal! Because of their generosity, Ahlum & Arbor donated their full $12,000 gift of in-kind labor, tree maintenance and staff training to the Conservatory.

Giving Treesday was a success in terms of dollars raised, donor engagement, generating community interest, and – most importantly – securing resources to fund tree care. Our horticulturists – including Kyle, Katie and Win pictured here – were humbled to have their work uplifted and grateful for the community's interest in supporting our trees.

We're grateful for the interest and excitement over our Giving Treesday campaign:

🌳 Number of donors: 95 (+265% over 2020) 🌳 Number of new donors: 30 (+200% over 2020)
📈 Dollars raised: $13,008 (+413% over 2020) 🗳️ Average gift size: $130.42 (+33% over 2020)

Our team is grateful to all who supported this campaign and invested in the health of our beautiful tree canopy – which in turn helps provide shade, air filtration and wildlife habitats. Thank you for helping us celebrate Giving Treesday!

THANK YOU, BILL DAWSON

There's a good chance that if you visited our Community Garden Campus in 2021, you were greeted by a smiling Bill Dawson. Bill was a treasured member of our Conservatory team that gave 30 years of service to our community. Bill began at the Conservatory before the AmeriFlora '92 exhibition that gave birth to the Conservatory we know today. Bill has been an integral part of the growth of the Conservatory, our Community Garden Campus, and our Growing to Green program, providing support to community gardens and amateur and master gardeners throughout the region. After a storied career, Bill announced his retirement at the end of 2021.

Bill has taught thousands of people over the years how to harvest the benefits of gardening: for good health, for building strong communities, and for just plain fun. The entire Conservatory family thanks Bill for his dedication and countless contributions.

PROVIDING ACCESS & INCLUSION

MUSEUMS FOR ALL

We're committed to increasing the number and diversity of guests that we serve, and to reducing barriers to attendance and membership. These are top institutional priorities for our Conservatory team.

These efforts have continued to grow in recent years, and now encompass a number of initiatives designed to ensure that reaping the educational, social, physical and mental health benefits of visiting the Conservatory are affordable and accessible to everyone in our community. As a partner in the national Museums for All program, the Conservatory offers year-round, $3 admission to individuals who participate in SNAP, EBT, WIC and Medicaid — including $3 admission for special engagements like Pumpkins Aglow and Conservatory Aglow.

Through Museums for All, we welcomed 9,363 guests in 2021, including more than 3,000 during the months of November and December for Conservatory Aglow and Holiday Blooms. These access initiatives help to ensure that everyone in our community has an opportunity to create family memories and enjoy holiday magic at the Conservatory.

"I appreciate the discounted admission for lower-income families."

- ANONYMOUS VISITOR

Many hands make light work, and that statement is truer than ever at the Conservatory! Volunteers are the lifeblood of our work.

In 2021, the Conservatory had more than 300 regularly serving volunteers, who dedicated 11,108 hours pruning and watering plants, sweeping leaves in the biomes, serving as friendly train conductors at the Paul Busse Garden Railway, monitoring butterflies taking flight in the Pacific Islands Water Gardens, welcoming guests of all ages to the Children's Garden and helping everyone have the best possible experience by wayfinding and answering a myriad of questions.

There's a good chance that if you enjoyed special customer service during a visit in 2021, it was thanks to our dedicated volunteers! This service to the Conservatory is valued at $282,921 in volunteer labor! 32 volunteers served more than 100 hours. That is more than four full days of volunteering!

34 volunteers achieved hour milestones during the year, ranging from those who achieved a total of 100 hours of service up to two of our dedicated volunteers who reached 1,000 hours of lifetime service! One volunteer earned the badge of 'most hours volunteered in 2021' by logging 419 hours of service to our organization — that's a LOT of positive community impact!

Whether they served one shift or 100+ hours, every one of our volunteers made Franklin Park Conservatory one of the most visited and beloved sites in Columbus last year!

COLLABORATION

We are dedicated to connecting the community to nature, and we believe in spreading horticultural education and appreciation beyond our acreage.

Our Community Outreach and Education programs — such as Growing to Green, Teen Corps, Farmers Market, the Free Little Farmstand and the Community Gardening Campus — allow us to serve our neighbors and community and instill a widespread appreciation and celebration of nature.

And for these programs, 2021 was truly a year of rebuilding. We hired new staff to lead our teams, re-evaluate offerings and reintroduce our access and outreach work after a year of limited programming. One of the most exciting highlights was the return of our Teen Corps cohort after a hiatus during the pandemic.

A group of 13 teens from various Franklin County zip codes spent eight weeks during the summer managing their own garden in the Scotts Miracle-Gro Foundation Community Garden Campus. The teens ran a booth at the Farmers Market, selling the produce and flowers they grew! Not only did they develop gardening and customer service skills, but they also learned more about sustainability, marketing, self-care, and working as a team.

Teen Corps students attended cooking classes using the vegetables harvested from their garden, and they also participated in a wide array of life skills lessons. Not to mention, they also learned about fun and different ways to grow food, such as mushrooms grown on toilet paper rolls or greens/herbs grown hydroponically.

TEEN CORPS

In our post-program surveys, many teens indicated they learned the importance and value of teamwork when gardening and running their Farmers Market booth. This was an especially important life skill to learn after a year of virtual schooling and time spent away from peers.

Teen Corps students attended cooking classes using the vegetables harvested from their garden, learning tasty and healthy recipes to recreate at home. Lessons also included hydroponic greens and herbs growing tutorials and sprouting mushrooms on toilet paper rolls.

Lastly, they also participated in an array of life skills lessons. This experience, made possible through donor support, helps teens literally and figuratively grow.

What was the best part of the summer with Teen Corps? One hundred percent agreed that participating in Teen Corps was FUN!

CONSERVATORY WOMEN'S BOARD

The Women's Board is a dynamic force at the Conservatory: a group of more than 260 women who fundraise, volunteer and advocate for the Conservatory's mission. Annually, they make a tremendous positive impact on our staff and guests.

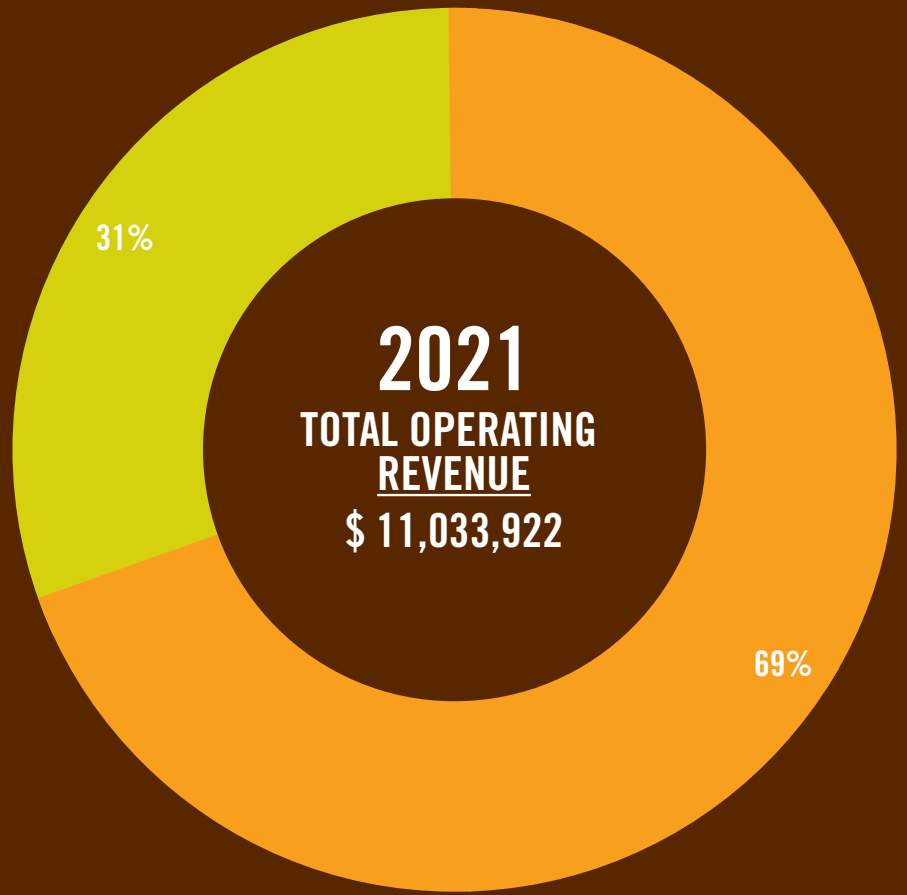

This year was no exception! The group logged more than 3,700 volunteer hours in 2021, and piloted a new volunteer effort called Community Connections in partnership with the Growing to Green program. The women martialled volunteer support to plant, weed, till, mulch, prune and harvest with 10 Growing to Green partner community garden sites around the city.

The Women's Board's chief activity is the coordination of the Field to Table fundraising event, the proceeds of which the board donates to support the Conservatory's community outreach, education and access initiatives.

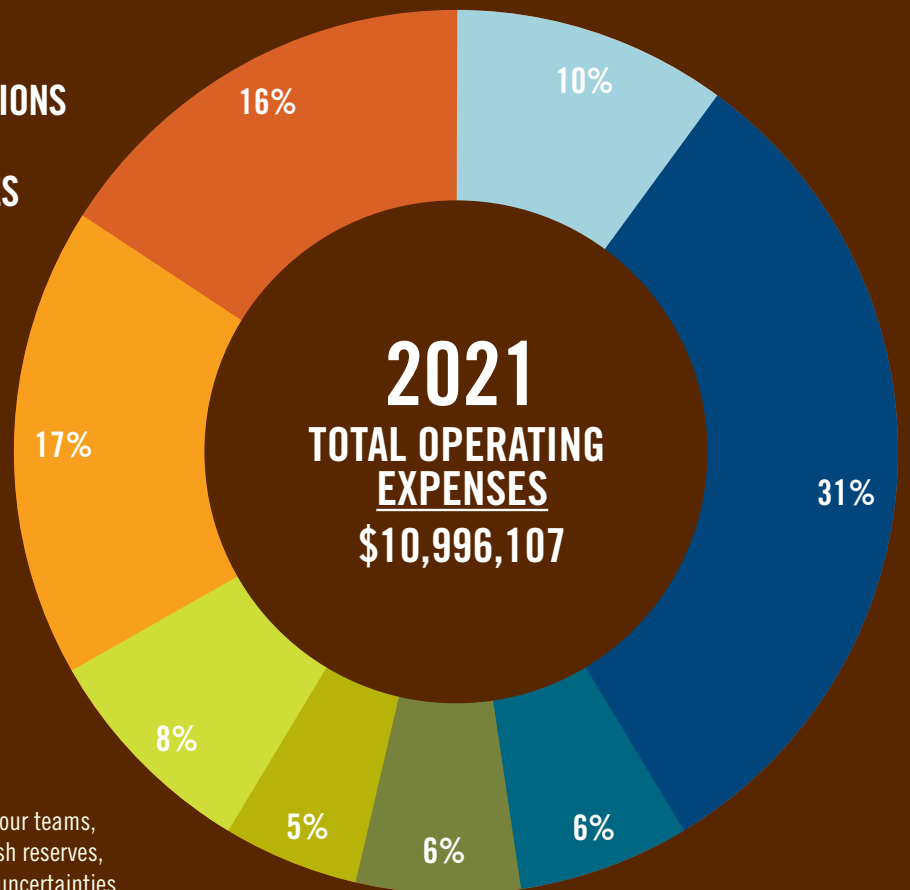

The positivity, perseverance and entrepreneurial spirit of the Women's Board was on full display as they developed strategic, multi-layered fundraising methods and planned a spectacular event, leading them to achieve record-breaking success. The Women's Board donated more than $407,000 to support the Conservatory's mission.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to each and every member of this phenomenal organization!

THANK YOU TO THE 2021 MONARCH SOCIETY

Special thanks to our Monarch Society Co-Chairs, Ruth Bitler and Ann Poole!

Each year, devoted individuals choose to support the mission of Franklin Park Conservatory and Botanical Gardens by joining the Monarch Society with unrestricted gifts of $1,000 or more. These gifts advance our mission, provide vital funding for program support, and build a strong and sustainable financial future. The Conservatory honors this incredible community of loyal philanthropic leaders.
