ABOUT INTERNATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHY AWARDS™

The International Photography Awards (IPA) conducts an annual competition for professional, amateur, and student photographers on a global scale, creating one of the most ambitious and comprehensive competitions in the photography world today.

The IPA contest is a sister-effort of the Lucie Foundation, a 501 (c) 3 non-profit, charitable foundation whose mission is to honor master photographers, discover and cultivate emerging talent and promote the appreciation of photography worldwide. The annual programming of Lucie Foundation is funded largely through the International Photography Awards, including the signature event, the Lucie Awards.

We aim to salute the achievements of the world's finest photographers, to discover new and emerging talents, and to promote the appreciation of photography.

BEST OF SHOW SELECTION

Each year, the IPA invites a guest curator to select 40 to 50 images from both the professional and non-professional pools of first, second, and third place winners to be exhibited in an exclusive "Best of Show" exhibition that opens in New York during the week leading up to the Lucie Awards Gala. The Best of Show exhibition then travels to various countries to be included in photo festivals, galleries, and other photography related events throughout the following year.

The End of the Dream
Thomas Broening
Advertising Photographer of the Year

The End of the Dream is a self-funded series of 24 billboards and 900 posters shown all over California. The images feature 3 issues threatening the state's survival: drought, fire and housing. It was featured in media locally and nationally.

DISCOVERY OF THE YEAR *23

Bakkarwals of Jammu and Kashmir

Carlo Marrazza

People Photographer of the Year

The Bakkarwals of Jammu and Kashmir are goat and sheep herders. They migrate and return annually from the hills of the Jammu region, through the Himalaya, to Kashmir valleys. In this year migration, due to unsettled weather that brought unseasonal cold and heavy snow, many families lost most of their livestock across high Himalayan passes. Despite this tragedy, recognizable in their eyes, many of them have not lost their kindness and agreed to have their picture taken.

PROFESSIONALS

Our War

Photographer: Edgar Martins (United Kingdom)

Prize: Analog / Film Photographer of the Year

Description: Produced in Libya and North Africa, my work uses as a jumping off point a speculative investigation into the death & disappearance of my close friend, photojournalist Anton Hammerl, during the 2011 Libyan war. He's mortal remains are missing to this day. By retracing Anton's steps, the places he visited and where he met his end, by engaging with those he met or photographed & others involved or affected by the conflict (combatants, civilians, Libyan dissidents in hiding, etc), by seeking meaningful intersections between our journeys, I was able to step into his shoes, even if momentarily.

Ships on land

Photographer: Gang Wang (China)

Prize: Architecture Photographer of the Year

Description: I came to Hong Kong's Huangpu Garden's Ship View Street and found this ship. I took this picture with a drone in spherical panorama mode, and used pt-gui in post-production to splice this interesting picture.

Ukraine: A War Crime

Photographer: by 93 photojournalists (France)

Prize: Book Photographer of the Year

Description: Ukraine: A War Crime is a unique, collaborative book bringing together 93 photojournalists from 29 countries to tell the story of the Russian invasion of Ukraine from the perspective of those tasked with documenting it.

Produced and published by FotoEvidencia, the book collects visual evidence of the violence and war crimes committed on Ukrainian soil.

The book is shortlisted for the 2023 Arles Historical Book Award.

Size: 20 x 32 cm 540pp 366 images | Languages - Ukrainian and English

Ukraine's War

Photographer: Wolfgang Schwan (United States)

Prize: Editorial / Press Photographer of the Year

Description: In early January, 2022 I traveled to eastern Ukraine for the first time with the intention of covering an environmental story. Instead I found myself covering daily life in the trenches of Donbas for the next two months. Over this time I developed a deep appreciation for the hospitality and generosity of Ukrainians. I decided to stay once the war broke out on Feb. 24 and work covering breaking news and daily life throughout 2022. This story is an overview of my coverage spanning eight months in Ukraine in 2022.

NYC Women's March 2017

Photographer: Nabil West (United States)

Prize: Event Photographer of the Year

Description: This photograph was taken the day after Donald Trump's inauguration. The protest was a response to the political temperature and dismissal of women's equality, as well as the valid concerns of future infringements on women's rights. Just before sunset looking down 42nd St. in midtown Manhattan, there are people protesting with signs as far as the eye can see. And all one can hear is the unified chant of "this is what democracy looks like".

Old Father Thames

Photographer: Julia Fullerton-Batten (United Kingdom)

Prize: Fine Art Photographer of the Year

Description: London is one of the major cities of the world today, but it would not have existed without the River Thames. The river has acted as a source of fresh water, an artery of communication and transportation, and a physical and psychological boundary. Part of the river is tidal and this forms a natural harbour. Since pre-Roman times the river has been the major communication and trade route between Britain and the rest of the world. These stories, countless whimsical, idiosyncratic and tragic happenings, all make up a history of one of the most important rivers in the world.

Ice Fantasy

Photographer: Barbara and Maciej Noskowski (Germany)

Prize: Nature Photographer of the Year

Description: We are absolutely fascinated by these beautiful patterns on the frozen lakes we discovered in February this year. They are like flowers, branches, stars, abstract compositions, minimalistic, fantastic! You can only see them from above. As we later found out, these are holes created as a result of vegetation inside the lake. These sprawling cracks and surrounding shapes are a quite rare sight.

Freedom to Fly

Photographer: Allison Hunter (United States)

Prize: People Photographer of the Year

Description: Young women in the U.S. are struggling in so many ways—by a failing economy, a rising climate crisis, and shrinking reproductive rights. Skateboarding offers these women a chance to fly.

Pets Meets Vintage

Photographer: Horst Kistner (Germany)

Prize: Special Photographer of the Year

Description: Stoty telling with pets. In a vintage ambiente.

CATEGORY WINNERS *23
NON-PROFESSIONALS

Mikaël Kingsbury, Olympic Freestyle Skier
Photographer: Finn O'Hara (Canada)
Prize: Sports Photographer of the Year
Description: Canadian Olympic Freestyle skier, Mikaël Kingsbury.

Spaghetti Stylist

Photographer: Yuliy Vasilev (Bulgaria)

Prize: Advertising Photographer of the Year

Description: Is it pasta? Or is it hair? Is it both? Or none?

Where Does the Tree End and the Rest of the World Begin?

Photographer: Daniela Balestrin (Brazil)

Prize: Analog / Film Photographer of the Year

Description: In the beginning, the intimate sphere. And then an inflated community of circles before the eyes. So much roundness formed a thread of beads, and the essay proceeded in lines where each photograph called upon met the choice of meaning to make meaning exist. By displacing the individuality of the photographs, giving them to the opening, a story of reciprocal animation occurred, where the breath of one extends into another. Things are alive and dream us. This essay seeks to imagine its dreams, to venture an invention.

Power Station (Storm)

Photographer: Steffen Reichardt (Germany)

Prize: Architecture Photographer of the Year

Description: Jänschwalde Power Station is located near the village of Jänschwalde in Brandenburg on the German-Polish border. It is the third-largest brown coal power plant in operation in Germany.

The Promise [of Safe, Clean and Unlimited Energy]

Photographer: Jan Schölzel (Germany)

Prize: Book Photographer of the Year

Description: Since mankind knows about the energy inside the atom and build the first fission reactor scientist worldwide try to tame the process that produces the suns energy. Nuclear fusion. The technology sounds too good to be true. It's supposed to be cleaner than the burning of fossile fuels, less limited than renewable energy and safer than fission. Fusing one gram of hydrogen releases as much energy as burning 10.8 million gram of coal. To achieve this goal the EU, Russia, USA, China and others are building "ITER". The first reactor supposed to produce 10 times more energy than was needed to run it.

Must Resist

Photographer: Or Adar (Israel)

Prize: Editorial / Press Photographer of the Year

Description: Since the beginning of 2023, Israel witness huge protests against the government and its plans to pass a judicial reform that will hurt Israeli democracy and the balance between the 3 authorities. This photo was taken in the heart of the largest protest against the government, with the participation of over 200,000 people. Those people are protesting every Saturday, in every weather, for more than 23 weeks, while they are fighting for their country's democracy.

Songkran

Photographer: Thamarong Wanarithikul (Thailand)

Prize: Event Photographer of the Year

Description: Songkran (A.K.A Thai New Year) is a water festival in Thailand and across Southeast Asia.

The water festival starts on the 13rd of April and lasts for 3 days.

This year 2023, it was a bigger celebration nationwide as we had not been able to celebrate for the past two years due to Covid. These pictures represent Thai people celebrating Songkran on pickup trucks, splashing water on the streets in Bangkok, Thailand.

Polychromo

Photographer: Bevil Templeton-Smith (United Kingdom)

Prize: Fine Art Photographer of the Year

Description: A series of photographs I took between February 2022 and April 2023 of crystals in polarised light on my 1970 Leitz Orthoplan polarising microscope. I prepared the crystals from a variety of household chemicals and sweeteners. Thousands of pictures later, I have curated a series of my favourite ones. A successful joint exhibition featuring 16 of them (some in this set) were shown in an exhibition titled Polychromo at Alveston Fine Art in Notting Hill in London in March 2023.

Anemone Purity

Photographer: Claudia Gaupp (Germany)

Prize: Nature Photographer of the Year

Description: I am always fascinated by the contrast between the lightness of the fragile petals to the tightly structured center of the anemone flower (Anemone coronaria). With this centred composition and the black and white photo, I wanted to focus on these two different textures. The capture was taken with natural light inside on my table.

.raw

Photographer: Daniil Kobizskiy (France)

Prize: Special Photographer of the Year

Description:

A raw glimpse of someone's life. Someone who left Russia.

"Raw" in the Oxford dictionary, in terms of: 1. Food - not cooked 2. Materials - in its natural state; not yet changed, used, or made into something else 3. Information - not yet organised into a form in which it can be easily used or understood 4. Emotions - powerful and natural 5. Part of body - red and painful because the skin has been damaged 6. Person - new to a job or an activity, and therefore without experience or skill

Narrow Escape

Photographer: Tony Law (Australia)

Prize: Sports Photographer of the Year

Description: Rodeo is a very dangerous sport. This young cowboy struggled as the erratic bucking of a strong bull quickly threw him to the ground. He was lucky to avoid injury, quickly evading the airborne beast before it landed.

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

© Raymond Depardon

Raymond Depardon, born in France in 1942, began taking photographs on his family farm in Garet at the age of 12. Apprenticed to a photographer-optician in Villefranche-sur-Saône, he left for Paris in 1958.

He joined the Dalmas agency in Paris in 1960 as a reporter, and in 1966 he co-founded the Gamma agency, reporting from all over the world. From 1974 to 1977, as a photographer and filmmaker, he covered the kidnap of a French ethnologist, François Claustre, in northern Chad. Alongside his photographic career, he began to make documentary films: 1974, Une Partie de Campagne and San Clemente.

In 1978, Depardon joined Magnum and continued his reportage work until the publication of Notes in 1979 and Correspondance New Yorkaise in 1981. In that same year, Reporters came out and stayed on the programme of a cinema in the Latin Quarter for seven months. In 1984, he took part in the DATAR project on the French countryside.

While still pursuing his filmmaking career, he received the Grand Prix National de la Photographie in 1991. His films also won recognition: in 1995 his film Délits Flagrants, on the French justice system, received a César Award for best documentary, and in 1998 he undertook the first in a series of three films devoted to the French rural world. The Maison Européenne de la Photographie in Paris mounted an important exhibition of his work in 2000. The sequel to his work on French justice was shown as part of the official selection at the Cannes Film Festival in 2004.

As part of an initiative by the Fondation Cartier for contemporary art, Depardon made an installation of films on twelve large cities, shown in Paris, Tokyo and Berlin between 2004 and 2007. In 2006, he was invited to be artistic director of the Rencontres Internationales d'Arles. He has made eighteen feature-length films and published forty-seven books.

JO ANN CALLIS

ACHIEVEMENT IN FINE ART

© Elizabeth Prager

Jo Ann Callis is an American photographer known for her intriguing and thought-provoking photographic works. Born in 1940 in Cincinnati, Ohio, Callis has made significant contributions to the field of fine art photography, particularly in the realm of staged and constructed images. Her photographs often explore themes of domesticity, desire, intimacy, and the human body.

Callis initially gained recognition in the 1970s for her work as part of the "fabricated photography" movement, which challenged traditional notions of photography as a purely objective medium. She began creating highly staged and meticulously composed images that incorporated elements of performance, sculpture, and installation. Callis would construct intimate and surreal tableaux using props, models, and household objects, transforming ordinary scenes into something extraordinary.

Jo Ann Callis enrolled at UCLA in 1970 where she began taking classes with Robert Heinecken, among other prominent artists. She started teaching at CalArts in 1976 and remains a faculty member of the School of Art's Program in Photography and Media.

She continues to photograph, experiment, fabricate, sculpt, and paint, and her work has been widely exhibited in such venues as the Museum of Modern Art, New York; Los Angeles County Museum of Art; Hammer Museum Los Angeles; the Museum of Contemporary Art; and the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art. In 2009 a retrospective of her work, Woman Twirling, was presented by the J. Paul Getty Museum, Los Angeles.

Callis has received numerous awards, grants and fellowships, including three NEA Fellowships, a Guggenheim Fellowship and was the 2019 Photo LA Honoree.

Her work is part of major public and private collections such as the National Gallery of Art, Smithsonian, Washington D.C.; the Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh; the J. Paul Getty Museum, Los Angeles; Centre Pompidou, Paris; the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art; the Tate Modern, London and Philadelphia Museum of Art.

MING SMITH

ACHIEVEMENT IN PORTRAITURE

Ming Smith has been photographing since early childhood. Embracing photography as a spiritual practice, the Harlem-based, Detroit-born artist's photographs reflect a lifelong exploration of movement, light, rhythm, and shadow.

Moving to Harlem after graduating from Howard University in the early 1970s, Smith found the neighborhood to be home to a community of Black artists, musicians, and performers, including herself. A woman of many firsts, she was the first woman to join the Kamoinge Workshop, a Harlem-based collective of Black photographers documenting Black life, and, in 1979, became the first Black woman photographer acquired by The Museum of Modern Art. Known for her poetic black-and-white street photography and portraits of notable Black cultural figures, Smith's detailed approach to image making has employed a range of in-camera, darkroom, and post-production techniques, which include, but are not limited to slowing down shutter speeds, multiple exposure prints, collage, and hand-painting on prints. The result is an oeuvre of equally stunning and evocative images of Black life that prioritize complexity, technicality, and beauty.

Smith is in love with light—what catches our eye and what lifts our spirits. What she leaves in the shadows, she leaves for the viewer to dig deep and question. She calls upon the viewer to fall in love as well; we cling to what she spotlights and we crave to know more of what she obscures. It is this thoughtful balance that keeps the eye coming back for more, both caught by brightness and lost in the depth. Her work is musical, bouncing through melody and harmony that reflect her long-held connection to the electric intuition and improvisation behind jazz.

With Ming Smith, the mundane becomes magic. She finds beauty in everyday life and in the mystery of lives we'll never know beyond a passing glance. There is an undeniable aura behind each image—each moment is a caught breath, rapt with suspended movement. Her experimental techniques also shine when traveling from photograph to photograph. Rough edges, blurred lines, intuitive strokes of paint, and double exposures all contribute to a fantasy of reality that Smith dreams to life.

© Ming Smith

Her images are intimate, whether they are catching someone's striking stare into the camera, following the soft lines of skin and fabric, or twinkling with the speckled light of nature through the trees. She looks for something deeper than what we can take in at first glance; she looks for family, for perseverance, for joy, for life. It is a special thing to dive into the world of Ming Smith, and she invites you to do so with open arms.

As an artist, full recognition for Smith's work arrived in response to several high-profile exhibitions. She was included in MoMA's 2010 seminal exhibition, Pictures by Women: A History of Modern Photography. Additional major group exhibitions include We Wanted A Revolution: Black Radical Women, 1965-85 at Brooklyn Museum (New York) in 2017; Soul of a Nation at Tate Modern in London, England (2017), which traveled to Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art in Bentonville, Arkansas (2018), The Broad in Los Angeles, California (2019), Brooklyn Museum in New York (2019), deYoung Museum in San Francisco, California (2019), and The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston (2020); and Working Together: The Photographers of the Kamoinge Workshop, organized by the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts (Richmond) and presented by Whitney Museum of American Art (New York, New York) (2020). More recently, Smith's work was presented in the solo exhibition, Projects: Ming Smith (2023), at The Museum of Modern Art, New York. Currently on view, Ming Smith: Feeling the Future (2023) at the Contemporary Arts Museum Houston; Smith's first solo exhibition at a major institution to survey her work from the early 1970s through the present. Her work is included in the collections of MoMA (New York, New York), the Whitney Museum of Art (New York, New York), Philadelphia Museum of Art (Pennsylvania), Detroit Institute of Arts (Michigan), Virginia Museum of Fine Art (Richmond), the Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture (New York, New York), and the National Museum of African-American History and Culture (Washington, DC). In 2023, Smith received the Lifetime Achievement award from the International Center of Photography (ICP) in New York.

CAROL GUZY

ACHIEVEMENT IN PHOTOJOURNALISM

Carol Guzy was born in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania and lived there until 1978 when she completed her studies at Northampton County Area Community College, graduating with an Associate's degree in Registered Nursing. A change of heart led her to the Art Institute of Fort Lauderdale in Florida to study photography. She graduated in 1980 with an Associate in Applied Science degree in Photography.

She interned at The Miami Herald and upon graduation was hired as a staff photographer. She spent eight years at the newspaper before moving to Washington, DC in 1988 where she became a staff photographer at The Washington Post through 2014. She is currently freelance.

She is the first journalist to receive a fourth Pulitzer – for coverage of the Haitian earthquake in 2010. Previously she was honored twice with the Pulitzer Prize for Spot News Photography for her coverage of the military intervention in Haiti and the devastating mudslide in Armero, Colombia. She received a third Pulitzer Prize for Feature Photography for her work in Kosovo. She has been named Photographer of the Year for the National Press Photographers Association three times and nine times for the White House News Photographers Association and has earned many other prestigious awards in her chosen profession of photojournalism. She specializes on long-form documentary human interest projects and news stories, both domestic and international and is currently a contract photographer with ZUMA Press.

JAMEL SHABAZZ

ACHIEVEMENT IN DOCUMENTARY

© Tau Battice

Jamel Shabazz is best known for his iconic photographs of New York City during the 1980s. A documentary, fashion, and street photographer, he has authored 12 monographs and contributed to over three dozen other photography related books.

His photographs have been exhibited worldwide and his work is housed within the permanent collections of The Whitney Museum, The Studio Museum in Harlem, The Smithsonian's National Museum of African American History and Culture, The Fashion Institute of Technology, The Art Institute of Chicago and the Getty Museum. Over the years, Shabazz has instructed young students at the Studio Museum in Harlem's "Expanding the Walls" project, The Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture "Teen Curators" program, and the Bronx Museum's "Teen Council."

He is also the 2018 recipient of the Gordon Parks award for excellence in the arts and humanitarianism and the 2022 awardee of the Gordon Parks Foundation/Steidl book prize.

His goal as an artist is to contribute to the preservation of world history and culture.

DONALD MIRALLE

ACHIEVEMENT IN SPORTS

© Chris Thomas

Donald Miralle has received over 50 international awards for his work including 6 World Press Photo Awards and has been named the Sports Photojournalist of the Year by both the National Press Photographers Association and Pictures of the Year International multiple times. After receiving his BA in Fine Arts from UCLA while competing on the Men's Division 1 Swim Team under the legendary Olympic Coach Ron Ballatore, Donald joined his love for sports and art into a photography career. Known for his unique approach to sports, adventure and portraiture, his work has been sought after by both commercial and editorial clients like Sports Illustrated, National Geographic, Discovery Channel, Outside, New York Times, Nike, Ironman, Getty Images, and NFL Players Association. He has covered every major sporting event and iconic athlete in the last 30 years including 10 Olympic Games, 15 Super Bowls, 20+ Golf Majors; as well trekked across the Himalayas, dove in the cenotes in the Yucatan, and chased massive waves in the South Pacific.

Donald contributed to the industry by serving on the contest juries for the Best of Photojournalism, Swedish Pictures of the Year, and the Wisconsin and Utah Press Photographers Associations Contests. He has served as a keynote speaker at the PDN PhotoPlus Expo, Great White North Workshop, and is active with the education of photojournalism at Brooks Institute, Art Center College of Design, and Pacific Ridge School. In 2013, Italian Publisher Dueotto, Nikon Italy, and La Stampa Newspaper sponsored the Donald Miralle 2.8 Workshop, the first hands-on sports & underwater photography workshop of its kind in the country.

Miralle loves to surf and paddleboard in his spare time, competing in The Molokai 2 Oahu Paddleboard World Championships (2nd Place 3 times), the 32-Mile Catalina Classic Paddleboard Race (3rd Place Overall two times), and still holds the course record holder for the Waterman Challenge now in its 30th year. He also serves as Head Swimming Coach for La Costa Canyon High School, giving back to the sport he loves and helping student athletes accomplish their goals in and out of the pool. He lives in the San Diego beach community of Leucadia with his wife Lauren, their sons Luke and Micah, dogs Kaya and Chucky, and their overweight cat Rigby.

FIROOZ ZAHEDI

ACHIEVEMENT IN ENTERTAINMENT

Born in Iran in 1949, Firooz Zahedi grew up in England where he received his secondary education. He is a graduate of Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service as well as the Corcoran School of Art both in Washington DC. He began his photographic work in 1975 by contributing to Andy Warhol's Interview magazine. In 1978 he left for Hollywood with his friend and mentor Elizabeth Taylor as her personal photographer. Remaining in Los Angeles he worked with a variety of magazines and entertainment companies. In 1991 he signed a contract with Vanity Fair magazine. His portrait photography appeared on the covers of major magazines including Town and Country, Glamour, Self, Esquire, Time, British GQ, In Style, People, Movieline, Tatler and many others. He has worked with the Warner Brothers, 20TH Century Fox, Universal Pictures, Paramount, Disney, HBO and Showtime as well as other film companies producing posters such as The Addams Family, Addams Family Values, Get Shorty, Practical Magic, Edward Scissorhands, Addicted To Love, Jackie Brown and the iconic and award winning image for the movie Pulp Fiction. He has photographed several album covers for such legends as Barbra Streisand, Diana Ross and Shakira. Besides his portrait photography, Firooz has exhibited his fine art photography as well as his collages at major galleries in Los Angeles, New York, London, Basel and Dubai. His work is in the permanent collection of LACMA, as well as the Norton Museum of Art in West Palm Beach. 'My Elizabeth', a photographic book of his nearly forty years of friendship with Elizabeth Taylor was published by Glitterati Incorporated in 2016. 'City of Angels', a book on architectural homes in Los Angeles was published by Vendome Press in 2018. 'Look At Me', a book of his portraits published by Pointed Leaf Press in 2020 and 'Montecito Style' was published by Monacelli Press in 2022. Firooz, and his wife Beth DeWoody, live between Los Angeles, Montecito, New York City and West Palm Beach.

PAUL NICKLEN AND CRISTINA MITTERMEIER

HUMANITARIAN AWARD

© Ben Moon

Paul Nicklen is a Canadian photographer, filmmaker, and marine biologist who has documented the beauty and plight of our planet for over thirty years.

His unique expertise in documentary photography allows him to create an emotional connection with wild subjects in extreme conditions, delivering audiences to an underwater realm witnessed by few.

Nicklen pursued his education at the University of Victoria in British Columbia, where he studied marine biology.

In the early 1990s, Paul Nicklen's career took an exciting turn when he joined the ranks of National Geographic as a staff photographer.

In 2014, he co-founded SeaLegacy, a global conservation, education, and communication agency for the ocean.

His sensitive and evocative imagery has garnered over 30 of the highest awards given to any photographer in his field, including the BBC Wildlife Photographer of the Year and the prestigious World Press Photo for Photojournalism.

In 2019, Mr Nicklen became the youngest person inducted into the International Photography Hall of Fame (IPHF). That same year, his alma mater, the University of Victoria, bestowed an honorary PhD on him for his lifelong efforts to use photography in the campaign against climate change.

In 2022, he received an honorary Doctor of Fine Arts, honoris causa, from Simon Fraser University.

Paul Nicklen's life and work serve as a testament to the transformative power of photography and the urgent need to preserve our planet's natural wonders. Through his breathtaking imagery and tireless efforts, he continues to educate and inspire millions worldwide, reminding us of the beauty and vulnerability of our fragile Earth.

World-renowned conservationist and photographer Cristina "Mitty" Mittermeier believes that stunning visual storytelling is the key to unlocking critical action to help heal our ocean and save our planet. Mittermeier pursued an early passion for marine biology, obtaining a degree from the Universidad Autónoma de México, and embarked on countless expeditions to study and document marine ecosystems worldwide. During these journeys, Mittermeier witnessed the alarming decline of our oceans due to overfishing, pollution, and climate change.

In 2005, she founded The International League of Conservation Photographers, coining the phrase "conservation photography."

In 2014, he co-founded SeaLegacy, a global conservation, education, and communication agency for the ocean.

Driven by a desire to make a difference, Mittermeier recognizes the transformative potential of photography as a means to raise awareness and inspire action.

She is the recipient of many prestigious awards, including the Smithsonian Conservation Photographer of the Year Award and the Imaging Award for Photographers Who Give Back. In 2021, she received the Seattle Aquarium's Sylvia Earle Medal and Travel + Leisure's Global Vision Award. She was named one of the 100 Latinos Most Committed to Climate Action and has been named one of the World's Top 50 Keynote Speakers.

In 2022, Mittermeier received an Honorary Doctorate of Fine Arts, Honoris Causa, from Simon Fraser University.

Mittermeier's body of work spans all seven continents, showcasing breathtaking landscapes, endangered wildlife, and the connection between indigenous communities and their natural surroundings. Mittermeier's legacy is a powerful reminder that we can safeguard our oceans through storytelling and collective action for future generations.

Antwaun Sargent is a writer, curator, and director at Gagosian.

He is the author of The New Black Vanguard: Photography between Art and Fashion (Aperture, 2019) and the editor of Young, Gifted, and Black: A New Generation of Artists (DAP, 2020). He guest-edited the May/June 2020 “New Talent” issue of Art in America. His writing has appeared in the New York Times, New Yorker, GQ, and in museum and gallery publications for artists Nick Cave, Ed Clark, Arthur Jafa, Meleko Mokgosi, Yinka Shonibare, and Mickalene Thomas, among many others.

The exhibitions The New Black Vanguard and Young, Gifted, and Black were both organized in 2019 and are currently on tour. Sargent defines the New Black Vanguard as a manifold collective of photographers across the African diaspora whose works “establish the significance of the Black figure—and even more radically, the Black creator—as a new ideal in contemporary culture.” Devoted to The Lumpkin-Bocuzzi

Family Collection of Contemporary Art, Young, Gifted, and Black assembles works across generations and media, including photographers LaToya Ruby Frazier, Deana Lawson, Paul Mpagi Sepuya, and D’Angelo Lovell Williams. In 2020, Sargent curated Just Pictures at Barrett Barreira Projects, St. Louis, an exhibition focused on younger photographers who work between the spaces of fine art, fashion, and history of the medium.

Sargent made his curatorial debut at Gagosian in 2021 with the group exhibitions Social Works (New York) and Social Works II (London). Considering the relationship between space—personal, public, institutional, and psychic—and Black social practice, the exhibitions featured works by artists who utilize space as a community-building tool and a means of empowerment.

2022 exhibitions at Gagosian include Awol Erizku: Memories of a Lost Sphinx, Alexandria Smith: Pretend Gravitas and Dream Aborted Givens, Amanda Williams, Rick Lowe: Meditations on Social Sculpture, and Tyler Mitchell: Chrysalis. Memories of a Lost Sphinx in New York featured Erizku’s lightbox photographs and a mixed-media sculpture that represent the sphinx as a hybrid symbol.

Chrysalis, in London presented Mitchell’s photographs of Black men and women in idyllic state of leisure and repose, proposing a utopian vision of Black beauty, desire, and belonging. Also in 2022, Sargent organized the presentation of Virgil Abloh: Figures of Speech at the Brooklyn Museum, the first museum exhibition dedicated to the visionary artist and designer.

This year, Sargent announced the gallery’s representation of Derrick Adams, Cy Gavin, and Deana Lawson. 2023 exhibitions at Gagosian include Cy Gavin in New York and Rome, Honor Titus in Los Angeles, Derrick Adams in Los Angeles, and Rick Lowe in Athens. In addition, Sargent co-curated Barkley L. Hendricks: Portraits at the Frick, an exhibition of key works by the influential portrait painter at the Frick Madison, New York
