As a final writing project of the year, junior and senior English students wrote an "I Have Something to Say" essay. The assignment was to write about something anything they wanted to share, with the knowledge that they would share the essays with their classmates and perhaps with the public. Every single one of the essays was amazing, insightful, and heartfelt. Not all the students opted to have their essays shared with The Wind, but many did. Here is one.

Certified Nursing Assistant
by Gracey C. Warren

In the eyes of some people, I may become "only a CNA" but I will be much more. I want the opportunity every day to make an impact on people's lives. CNA's get paid for more than simply washing people, making beds, and all the other tasks that come with the job. We have chosen a profession that demands direct care from us. We need to show patience, compassion, and support daily, no matter what kind of day we are having. I'm not only a "CNA" I'm a CNA.

A CNA is in charge of getting the residents in and out of bed, toileting them, showering, bed bathing, taking them to their appointments and activities, and assisting them with walking when they want to go for walks. Reporting any health issues to the supervising nurse. Emptying catheter bags. Setting up meal trays, and documenting food and fluid intake. Making beds. Keeping the residents' space clean and tidy. Turning bedridden residents to prevent bedsores.

I will be the CNA in many patients' lives, who will be providing them with activities of daily living. Washing, dressing, bathing, eating, some patients may not be able to do these things themselves anymore so they will depend on me. I will be there for tough days; I will give emotional support even when I just want to cry too. I am the one they will rage at, venting their frustration, anger, confusion, and fear. I will perform care, even though doing so will put me in a position of being physically and verbally abused at times by the hands of those I care for.

As a CNA I'll be the one who hears "I want to go home" from patients sometimes several times a night and comforts them. I will make a difference by offering my support to my residents. The staff becomes the only family a resident has. I will become their source of love, and friendship. I will be the one who tries to heal loneliness and depression in the residents I care for.

One of the most important things, I will let them know that someone still cares about them. I will be the one who listens when no one else listens. I will listen to my patients' repeat stories from their past over and over again, offering my words of encouragement over their accomplishments and memories. I want to be the one who ensures they know they still have great worth as human beings, even though their lives have changed. I'm not "only a CNA" I'm a CNA.

Dear Sons,
Sometimes we love another
so that we learn to love ourselves
it's like climbing a staircase
bedecked with flowers
and the wonderful jewels
of the tears we shed in letting go we don't often see our own beauty until we've seen it through someone else's eyes

Once we become familiar with that true sighting of self
we see who we are and move forward without the baggage of need or the burden of fear and I've found that we only rise
when we recognize that love is in everything
we cannot lose it
by giving it away

You might feel too sensitive to be here
but you are never too weak
to survive
so stop with the excuses
of why you can't take it
and go on and live till you die!
Love, Mom

Vinalhaven School News!

What happens in July?

As I mentioned last week, in addition to Robotics Camp (which was great!), there's a surprising amount of activity at Vinalhaven School during July. Deep cleaning, waxing floors, and painting. Camps, ESY, tutoring, and lots of local and visiting students who come by the playground to have fun.

The business office is busy with training for the new accounting software system. PowerSchool is being updated with student information, schedules, and courses. Supplies are being ordered, and the long-range plan for facilities maintenance and repair is being implemented. Planning continues for the Vinalhaven Summer Institute (optional staff training) that occurs in August, and individual teachers are preparing new courses, changing and prepping classrooms, or taking courses regarding our initiative with the science of reading.

What we need in August? If you are interested in helping coach soccer this fall, or a sport later in the year, contact Daniel.Ganoza@VinalhavenSchool.org

Jobs! Are you interested in driving a school van before and/or after school? If so, please reach out to Tina.Davidson@VinalhavenSchool.org for an application, or email/call me (Monte Selby) with questions. Thanks!

Contrary to what we may have heard, England is not just another island. It's much bigger, for example, and whereas we are casual regarding our r's these islanders employ them eagerly while treating h with particular economy. They once had a great penchant for attaching adjective modifiers to a King's first name that effectively quantified that monarch's accomplishments. During a visit some time ago, we chose from the many alternatives that presented themselves, the ruins of an old castle to visit. Corfe Castle, in Dorset, was only an hour or two from our lodgings, in Bath. The castle was once presided over by Kind Edgar the Peaceable who'd succeeded Edmund the Magnificent. King Edgar was succeeded by Edward the Charitable and had it only ended I'd have very little to write about. As it turns out though, a dear member of my family is directly descended from the hapless monarch who, when his half brother Edward was assassinated by his mother, ascended the throne at Corfe Castle and became King of England at the age of ten. Until we arrived at the site we had no idea we'd randomly selected the very castle once occupied by Elaine's great, etc. grandfather. Faced with invading hordes of Vikings determined to overthrow the Anglo Saxons, the ten year old was in a bind. Although the consequences were predictable, Kind Aethelred the Unready; we call him gramps, reigned off and on until 1016. pc

Tidbits from the Vinalhaven Historical Society

Kenneth Polk of Vinalhaven, who has employment at The North Haven Mink Farm with Richard Ball, had a narrow escape this week when his car was said to have gone out of control just below Havenhurst Hill smashing through the fence across a ditch. The crash being heard some distance away. The fence is on the farm of Arthur Beverage. He hastened to the scene expecting two cars had come together. Mr. Polk was in Rockland with Constable Haskell later for driving an unregistered car, paying $19 in all fines and costs. July 21, 1956

At Rockaway Inn Sunday at 4 o'clock, T. E. Libby, president of the Libby-Burchell Fisheries Co., entertained a dinner party in honor of Norman C. Nagle of Boston, VP of the company. It was an introduction to Mr. Nagle of representative businessmen of the town and a pleasant get together affording exchange of views and discussion of the outlook of business prospects. Mr. Nagle will be in town occasionally throughout the summer. He was much pleased with the welcome he received and the generous whole heartedness of the townspeople. The menu served by Bruce Grindle, manager, was fruit cocktail, haddock smother, broiled lobster, roast chicken, vegetable salad, rolls, assorted cake, ice cream and coffee. July 24, 1928

Mrs. Marguerite Adair will operate her studio at her home on Atlantic Avenue this summer, she will be glad to welcome old friends and new. July 11, 1959

Mrs. E. L. Glidden entertained friends at a Kitchen Party Friday afternoon. Miss Rebecca Calderwood of New Kensington, Pa. demonstrated Wear Ever aluminum ware. The syrup served on the griddle cakes was some of J. H. Carver's best. July 10, 1923

Eloise Bullman of Philadelphia, who spent several summers here, has made a donation toward the new boat fund and wishes the first toot of the whistle, when the boat arrives, credited to her. July 20, 1943

Roseann Greenlaw, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Alfred Greenlaw, celebrated her 4th birthday recently by entertaining at a party; Karen Lloyd, Diane Bruce, Ruth Ann Bennett, Rosemary Anthony, Roxanne Calderwood, Ronnie Walker, Laurier Green, Billy Mills, Paulette Lyford, Ruth Mills, Mary Ann Roberts, Nancy Tolman, Peggy Burgess, Roberta Sprague, June Bennett, Linda Tibbetts, Alan Poole, Janice & Arnold Barton, Marcia Alley, Leeann Healey, Tamara Hopkins, Dolores MacDonald and Donald Young. Both grandmothers, Mrs. Ira MacDonald and Mrs. Jesse Greenlaw were present, also mothers of the children. Games were played and Roseann received many nice gifts. Lunch included Birthday cake, ice cream and punch. Favors were balloons and candies. July 18, 1950

Harold Nelson gave his parents and some of the townsfolk quite a scare last Thursday evening. It seems that Harold and a few more young folks were crossing the harbor with Tom Polk in his boat, all at once they missed young Nelson and fears began to be entertained that he had fallen into the water. After a search that lasted for about an hour Harold was found greatly enjoying the show at the Gem Theatre. It seems when Polk's boat was about to pass by the dory owned by Harold's father, the boy, unnoticed by his companions, jumped from Polk's boat into the dory and rowed ashore. VH Neighbor July 13, 1938

At The Gem Theatre: Fri & sat July 22 & 23 "Yellow Jack" with Robert Montgomery and Virginia Bruce. Mon & Tues July 25 & 26 "Tropic Holiday" with Dorothy Lamour and Ray Milland VH Neighbor 1938
