PREFACE

History and Purpose of the International Classification

1. A survey made in April 1963 by the United International Bureaux for the Protection of Intellectual Property (BIRPI), now the World Intellectual Property Organization, revealed that a number of member countries of the Paris Convention for the Protection of Industrial Property were interested in the creation of one single and uniform classification for industrial designs.
2. In response thereto the Director of BIRPI convened in 1964 and in 1966 a Committee of Experts in order to prepare such a classification.
3. This Committee of Experts elaborated a draft international classification and recommended the conclusion of a special agreement within the framework of the Paris Convention to serve as a basis for the International Classification. The Executive Committee of the Conference of Representatives of the Paris Union, at its September 1966 session, endorsed this recommendation. In October 1968, a Diplomatic Conference was held in Locarno, establishing the International Classification for Industrial Designs by means of the "Locarno Agreement".
4. By virtue of Article 3 of the Locarno Agreement a Committee of Experts is created in which each of the contracting countries is represented. This Committee was entrusted with finalizing the List of Classes and Subclasses which had been annexed to the Agreement, and with adopting the Explanatory Notes and the List of Goods. This Committee of Experts is also the body competent for keeping the International Classification up to date by adapting it to developments in industry and technology.
5. In order to prepare the work of the said Committee of Experts pending the entry into force of the Agreement, the Diplomatic Conference, by a Resolution dated October 7, 1968, set up a provisional Committee of Experts composed of one representative from each country signatory to the Locarno Agreement, and gave it the task of re-examining the List of Classes and Subclasses annexed to the Agreement, and of establishing drafts of the Alphabetical List of Goods and of the Explanatory Notes. The provisional Committee of Experts held one session, which took place in Geneva from November 30 to December 4, 1970.
6. The Locarno Agreement entered into force on April 27, 1971, and the Committee of Experts met for the first time from September 6 to 18, 1971. It finalized and adopted the List of Classes and Subclasses, with Explanatory Notes on a great many classes and subclasses, as well as the Alphabetical List of Goods (hereinafter referred to as the "International Classification"). The various subclasses have been established according to the so-called "superiority principle," which means that each class begins, as far as possible, with the most restrictive subclass and ends with the most general.
7. The International Classification comprises three parts:
  - (i) a List of Classes and Subclasses;
  - (ii) an Alphabetical List of Goods in which industrial designs are incorporated, with an indication of the classes and subclasses into which they fall and
  - (iii) Explanatory Notes. The List of Classes consists of 32 classes, each of which may contain subclasses.

Use of the International Classification

8. The International Classification has essentially a practical value. Article 2 of the Locarno Agreement expressly provides that, subject to the requirements prescribed by that Agreement, the Classification shall be solely of an administrative character. In particular, the Classification does not bind the contracting countries as regards either the nature or the scope of the protection afforded to the design in those countries.

9. The Locarno Agreement provides that the Offices of the contracting countries must include in the official documents for the deposit or registration of designs, and, if they are officially published, in the publications in question, the numbers of the classes and subclasses of the International Classification to which the goods incorporating the designs belong. The Committee of Experts set up by the Locarno Agreement adopted a recommendation on how these numbers should be indicated (see page (xvii) below).

10. As from January 1, 1972, the International Bureau has been classifying according to the International Classification goods, in which industrial designs are incorporated, that are the subject of an international deposit made in accordance with the provisions of the Hague Agreement Concerning the International Deposit of Industrial Designs, of November 6, 1925 (revised on several occasions and most recently in Geneva, on August 29, 1975), this in order to facilitate the task of countries to which the effects of the international deposit extend.

Revisions of the International Classification

11. In accordance with Article 3(3) of the Locarno Agreement, proposals for amendments or additions to the International Classification may be made at any time by the Office of any of the contracting countries or by the International Bureau of WIPO.

12. The second and third sessions of the Committee of Experts took place in May 1978, and October 1980, respectively. At those occasions several amendments and additions to the International Classification were made. The amendments and additions adopted by the Committee of Experts were communicated by the International Bureau to the Offices of the contracting countries by means of Notification No.2 and No. 3 dated August 3, 1978 and December 29, 1980 respectively and published in the periodical "La Propriété industrielle" and "Industrial Property." The said amendments and additions entered into force on February 3, 1979 and June 29, 1981 respectively.

Editions of the International Classification

13. In 1972, the International Bureau published the first edition of the International Classification, followed by a second edition in 1978, incorporating the amendments and additions decided upon by the Committee of Experts at its session in 1978.

14. This volume (the third edition) contains the text of the classification as adopted by the Committee of Experts at its third session in October 1980. It replaces all earlier editions.

15. The List of Goods is published in two separate lists, i.e. the first one, being a listing in alphabetical order, with an indication of the class and subclass to which they belong, and the second one, being a listing in the order of the classes and subclasses, with the goods arranged in alphabetical order within the subclasses.

Languages of the International Classification

16. In accordance with the provisions of the Locarno Agreement, the International Classification is established in the English and French languages, both texts being equally authentic. In addition, at its session of September 1972, the Assembly of the Special Union for the International Classification for Industrial Designs (Locarno Union) designated, German Spanish and Portuguese as languages in which, pursuant to Article 1(7)(b) of the Locarno Agreement Establishing an International Classification for Industrial Designs, official texts of the Classification were to be established. Publications of the International Classification in these languages are under preparation.

Article 2

Use and Legal Scope of the International Classification

(1) Subject to the requirements prescribed by this Agreement, the international classification shall be solely of an administrative character. Nevertheless, each country may attribute to it the legal scope which it considers appropriate. In particular, the international classification shall not bind the countries of the Special Union as regards the nature and scope of the protection afforded to the design in those countries.

(2) Each country of the Special Union reserves the right to use the international classification as a principal or as a subsidiary system.

(3) The Offices of the countries of the Special Union shall include in the official documents for the deposit or registration of designs, and if they are officially published, in the publications in question, the numbers of the classes and subclasses of the international classification into which the goods incorporating the designs belong.

(4) In selecting terms for inclusion in the alphabetical list of goods, the Committee of Experts shall exercise reasonable care to avoid using terms in which exclusive rights may exist. The inclusion of any word in the alphabetical index, however, is not an expression of opinion of the Committee of Experts on whether or not it is subject to exclusive rights.

Article 3

Committee of Experts

(1) A Committee of Experts shall be entrusted with the tasks referred to in Article 1(4), 1(5) and 1(6). Each country of the Special Union shall be represented on the Committee of Experts, which shall be organized according to rules of procedure adopted by a simple majority of the countries represented.

(2) The Committee of Experts shall adopt the alphabetical list and explanatory notes by a simple majority of the votes of the countries of the Special Union.

(3) Proposals for amendments or additions to the international classification may be made by the Office of any country of the Special Union or by the International Bureau. Any proposal emanating from an Office shall be communicated by that Office to the International Bureau. Proposals from Offices and from the International Bureau shall be transmitted by the latter to the members of the Committee of Experts not later than two months before the session of the Committee at which the said proposals are to be considered.

(4) The decisions of the Committee of Experts concerning the adoption of amendments and additions to be made in the international classification shall be by a simple majority of the countries of the Special Union. Nevertheless, if such decisions entail the setting up of a new class or any transfer of goods from one class to another, unanimity shall be required.

(5) Each expert shall have the right to vote by mail.

(6) If a country does not appoint a representative for a given session of the Committee of Experts, or if the expert appointed has not expressed his vote during the session or within a period to be prescribed by the rules of procedure of the Committee of Experts, the country concerned shall be considered to have accepted the decision of the Committee.

Article 4

Notification and Publication of the Classification and of Amendments and Additions Thereto

(1) The alphabetical list of goods and the explanatory notes adopted by the Committee of Experts, as well as any amendment or addition to the international classification decided by the Committee, shall be communicated to the Offices of the countries of the Special Union by the International Bureau. The decisions of the Committee of Experts shall enter into force as soon as the communication is received. Nevertheless, if such decisions entail the setting up of a new class or any transfer of goods from one class to another, they shall enter into force within a period of six months from the date of the said communication.

(2) The International Bureau, as depositary of the international classification, shall incorporate therein the amendments and additions which have entered into force. Announcements of the amendments and additions shall be published in the periodicals to be designated by the Assembly.

Article 5

The International Bureau shall communicate the said decisions to the countries members of the Assembly which were not represented and shall invite them to express in writing their vote or abstention within a period of three months from the date of the communication. If, at the expiration of this period, the number of countries having thus expressed their vote or abstention attains the number of countries which was lacking for attaining the quorum in the session itself, such decisions shall take effect provided that at the same time the required majority still obtains.
  - (d) Subject to the provisions of Article 8(2), the decisions of the Assembly shall require two-thirds of the votes cast.
  - (e) Abstentions shall not be considered as votes.
  - (f) A delegate may represent, and vote in the name of, one country only.
- (4) (a) The Assembly shall meet once in every third calendar year in ordinary session upon convocation by the Director General and, in the absence of exceptional circumstances, during the same period and at the same place as the General Assembly of the Organization.
  - (b) The Assembly shall meet in extraordinary session upon convocation by the Director General, at the request of one-fourth of the countries members of the Assembly.

(7) (a) In the headquarters agreement concluded with the country on the territory of which the Organization has its headquarters, it shall be provided that, whenever the working capital fund is insufficient, such country shall grant advances. The amount of those advances and the conditions on which they are granted shall be the subject of separate agreements, in each case, between such country and the Organization.

(b) The country referred to in subparagraph (a) and the Organization shall each have the right to denounce the obligation to grant advances, by written notification. Denunciation shall take effect three years after the end of the year in which it has been notified.

RECOMMENDATION

by the Committee of Experts set up under Article 3 of the Locarno Agreement, at its meeting on September 17, 1971

It is recommended to the Offices of member countries of the Locarno Union that they apply the International Classification for Industrial Designs in the following manner:

(a) The class number is indicated in Arabic figures; the subclass number is also indicated in Arabic figures, but it must always contain two digits; for the subclasses, therefore, the numbers 1 to 9 will be preceded by an 0; the class number is separated from the subclass number by a dash (for instance, Class 1 Subclass 4 will be indicated thus: 1-04);

(b) the class and subclass numbers will be preceded by the indication "Cl." (for instance: Cl. 1-04);

(c) if the numbers of several classes or subclasses must be indicated for one and the same deposit, the classes should be separated by a semicolon and the subclasses by a comma (for instance: Cl. 8-05, 08; 11-01).

LIST OF CLASSES AND SUBCLASSES WITH EXPLANATORY NOTES

GUIDANCE FOR THE USER

1. In this volume, the List of Goods is reproduced in alphabetical order and in class order.

2. The List in alphabetical order is printed in two sets of four columns on each page, as follows:

the first column contains the numbers of the classes and subclasses in which the goods are placed;

the second column contains the serial numbers of the indications of goods in English;

the third column contains the indications of goods in English;

the fourth column gives the serial numbers of the corresponding indications of goods in French.

3. The List in class order is printed in two sets of three columns, preceded by the headings of the classes and subclasses. Here, the order is as follows:

the first column contains the serial numbers of the indications of goods in English;

the second column contains the indications of goods in English;

the third column gives the serial numbers of the corresponding indications of goods in French.

4. Only words significant within the context of the product indication have been chosen as keywords to be used in the List of Goods. Thus, indications of goods such as "Apparatus for charging accumulators" or "Devices for cutting adhesive plaster" should be looked for under the keywords "Accumulators," "Charging" and "Cutting", "Adhesive." Similarly, words such as "machines," "instruments," "utensils," which are not significant, will not be found as keywords.

5. The abbreviations (Am.) and (Br.) appearing in brackets after certain product indications denote American or British usage, as the case may be.

LIST OF CLASSES AND SUBCLASSES

General Remarks:

(a) The titles of the classes and subclasses provide a general indication as to the area to which the goods belong. Some goods may be covered by more than one such title, however. It is therefore advisable to consult the Alphabetical List to make sure of the classification of various goods.

(b) The notes relating to a class are not repeated in the subclasses which they concern. It is therefore advisable to consult them at the same time as the notes on the subclasses themselves.

(c) Where there is no special classification provided for goods intended to form part of another product, those goods are placed in the same class and subclass as the product of which they are intended to form part if they cannot normally be used for another purpose.
