\%. SOCIAL SECURITY

[Data in this section relate to continental United States, Alaska, and Hawaii, except as noted]

GENERAL NOTE

Old-age and survivors insurance.-Federal old-age and survivors insurance, administered by the social Security Board under the Social Security Act as amended in August 1939, covers employment in ndustry and commerce. Specifed employments are excepted, notably agricultural labor, domestic service in private homes, services for government and for certain types of nonprofit organizations, service for railroads and certain of their subsidiaries and affiliates, and self-omployment. In January 1940, monthly benefits became payable to qualified workers at age 65 and also to certain dependents of beneficiaries and certain survivors of insured workers. Benefits are based on the legally defined average wage of the insured and are paid from the Federal Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund, to which is appropriated annually an amount equal to the total taxes paid by employers and employees under the Federal Insurance ontributions Act.
Employment security.-The Federal-State unemployment compensation program provides for payments to insured industrial and commercial workers who are able to work but unable to find jobs. Contributions, based on wages, are paid by employers, and in some States also by employees, to provide funds to be used solely for the payment of benchts, which are based on prior employment and wages. Under the social Security Act the social security Board has two statutory responsibilities in administering the unemployand additional credits under the provisions of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act the State unemploy ment compensation laws, which conform to the standards prescribed by the Social Security Act, it also ertifies grants to defray necessary costs of administering state unomployment compensation laws for those States which in law and administration, conform to the standards prescribed in title III of the act. Funds re certified in the amounts determined by the Board to be neceseary for the proper and offient admini ration of State unemployment compensation laws, including the administration of State employment services in connection with the payment of benefits. Nation-wide administration of the State employment services was assumed by the Social Security Board on Jan. 1, 1942, and was transferred to the War Manpowe Commission on Dec. 1, 1942
Public assistance.-Under the Social Security Act, the Federal Government shares with the States the costs of administration and money payments for special types of public assistance (aid to needy persons parental support, or under the age of 18 if regularly attending school). To receive a Federal grant under any one of these programs, a State must have a plan approved by the Social Security Board as meeting the basic requirements of the act
Social insurance and public aid.-For analysis of general problems of social security and comparison of social insurance and public assistance under the social security Act with other public provision for in urance payments and public aid, the social security Board issues data obtained from Federal and State agencies on benefits and beneficiaries under selected social insurance systems, on earnings and persons employed on Federal work programs, and on payments and recipients under special types of assistance, and general assistance.

No. 207.-Railroad Retirement-Benefit Payments Certified to the Secretary of the Treasury, by Class of Benefit: 1936 to 1942

Note.--The Railroad Retirement Act, as passed in 1935 and amended in 1937, established a Federal retirement system for railroad employees. Employers under the act include carriers-railroads, express companies, and sleeping car companies, subject to Part I of the Interstate Commerce Act; carrier affiliates for example; organizations such as railroad or traffic associations maintained by 2 or more employers; and standard railway-labor organizations, national in scope. The act provides for 5 classes of retirement and stand
(1) Em.
(1) Employee annuities, both disability and old age, based on an employee's years of service and average monthly compensation, exclusive of earnings above $$ 300$, with employers under the act.
(2) Survivor annuities, paid to the surviving spouse of a deceased employee annuitant who had elected a reduced annuity during his or her lifetime in order to provide a lifetime annuity for his or her surviving spouse.
(3) Death-benefit annuities, paid under the 1935 act to the surviving spouse or dependent next of kin of a deceased annuitant or of a deceased employee who at the time of his or her death was entitled to receive an annuity. These annuities are equal to half the annuities paid or payable to the employee annuitants before their death, and are payable for 12 months
(4) Lump-sum death benefits, paid under the 1937 act to 1 or more designated beneficiaries or to 1 or more of the deceased employee's surviving relatives, as prescribed in the amendment of Apr. 8, 1942. These benents are equal compensation in excess of $$ 300$ in any 1 month), less the as an employee after Dec. 31, 1936 (exsurvivor annuities that may have been paid. If an employee annuitant had elected a joint-and-survivor annuity and his or her spouse was alive at the time of his or her death, the death beneft is not payable until after the death of the spouse
(5) Pensions paid under the 1937 act to individuals who were, on both March 1 and July 1, 1937, on the pension or gratuity rolls of employers under the act and who were not eligible on July 1, 1937, for annuities based in whole or in part on service prior to Jan. 1, 1937. The pensions are equal in amount to the individual pensions or gratuities granted by employers, but cannot exceed $$ 120$ per month.
The funds of the retirement system come from an equal tax on employers and employees, based on the amount of compensation, not in excess of $$ 300$ in any 1 calendar month, earned by each employee. The changes in the tax rate are as follows: Calendar years 1937, 1938, 1939, rate 23 percent; 1940, 1941, 1942, rate 3 percent; 1943, 1944, 1945, rate $31 / 4$ percent; $1946,1947,1948$, rate $31 / 2$ percent; 1949 and subsequent years, rate $33 / 4$ percent. Thus the total amount of the tax available for the first 3 years of the system is $51 / 2$ percent of total employee compensation (as defined above), and for the year 1949 and thereafter it $51 / 2$ percent of total will be $71 / 2$ percent.
Figures for annuities and pensions include amounts payable for a given month on all claims certifled to the end of the month and still in force, and retroactive monthly payments on claims initially certified or recertified during the month. Cancelations and repayments of amounts certified in previous months are deducted.

Note.--Figures for initial certifications are for period during which payment was first certified and not for period during which annuity began to accrue. Figures for terminations by death are for period during which notice of death was received and not for period during which beneficiary died. Cumulative figures exclude claims declared ineligible, erroneous certifications, and erroneous reports of death. In-force figures as of any date inelude only certifications made up to that date, less terminations by death force figures as of any date include only certifications made up to that date, less terminations by death reported by that date; they are also adjusted for recertifications, reinstatements, and terminations other than by death (suspension, return to service, recovery from disability, and commutation to lump-sum payment), items which are not shown in this table. See headnote, table 207.

[The Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, as passed in 1938 and amended in 1939 and 1940, established a Federal unemployment insurance system for the same employees who are covered by the Railroad Retirement Act. Under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act contributions first began to accrue and benefits first became payable as of July 1 , 1939 . Contributions amounting to 3 percent of pay rolls are collected from the employers. Unemployed employees may draw benefits if they have earned at least the act prior to the 1940 amendment, as well as under the amended act, the daily benefit amount is related to the amount of base-year earnings.]

${ }^{1}$ An application for a certificate of benefit rights is submitted when an unemployed worker applies for unemployment insurance benefits for the first time in a benefit year.
${ }^{2}$ A certificate of benefit rights is issued to each employee who has filed an application for such a certificate and who has had sufficient earnings from a railroad employer in the base year to qualify for unemployment insurance benefits.
1940 comprised 15 repared for each period beginning with a day of unemployment. The period prior to Nov. 1 , 194, comprised 15 consecutive days, and 4 consecutive days arter 10 . it contains registrations for each day of unemployment in the period and is submitted the end of pere even where there are insufficient days of unemployment for the payment of benefits.
begun prior to Noverpayments and recovery of underpayments. On clams applying to 15 -day periods waiting period if the claimant registered for at least 8 days of unemployment; the amount of the certification is the product of the daily benefft amount and the number of days of unemployment in excess of 7 . On claims applying to 14 -day periods begun on or after Nov. 1, 1940, a benefit payment is certified for qualified claimants who had served their waiting period if the claimant registered for at least 5 days of unemployment, the amount certified being the product of the daily benefit amount and the number of day of unemployment in excess of 4. In addition, benefits are certified on waiting-period claims, if the number of days of unemployment in such period is 8 or more; on such claims the benefit is calculated as the product of the daily benent amount and the number of days of unemployment in excess of 7 . The maximum number of days of unemployment for which benefits were paid was 80 before Nov. 1, 1940, and 100 since then.
